I have been purchasing from Royal Papers for two plus years. One of the nice things about purchasing from Royal is the large offering of products and manufacturers they represent. On numerous occasions I have needed to source a new item and with the help of my sales rep Bob Straight it has been accomplished with a minimum of effort on my part. When I have needed information concerning an issue Bob has helped to provide information on a product or products that have resolved the issue.

It is also important to mention that my pricing has been competitive and the fast turnaround from placing an order to receiving it is usually 48 hours or less. I think it is great to work with a company so invested in creating the level of service Royal is capable of delivering.

I look forward to doing business with Royal for the foreseeable future and am pleased to recommend their services to anyone needing Janitorial supplies.
